 TRAIN AN HOUR AND A HALF LATE at Inuviala.
 JOHN KENNEDY, of Poplar Lake, has purchased the land formerly owned by John Brown, adjoining his present homestead. This gives Mr. Kennedy a farm of 720 acres.

SPEAKER BETTS, of the Legislative Assembly, arrived on last train and held a meeting on Friday night in Horrocks' hall in connection with the I. O. F. M. B. B. returns south in the morning.
 M. T. BUTLER and R. G. Baldwin, of Los Angeles, and Murray Edgar and R. McFarlane, of New Brunswick, are preparing to start for Yukon via Fort St. John. They will go as far as St. John with H. H. Quick when he returns to that point to rejoin the Franco party. They expect to start this week.

A party from Cincinnati, O., and Kentucky, bound for the Yukon, arrived on last train and are registered at the Jasper. The names of the members of the party are: W. H. Horner, Wm. Tell, Ed. Burnett, John Barge and J. J. Blair, M. D. They intend to pull out about the first of February, making bob-sleigh and going by way of the Landing and Athabasca river to Ft. St. John.

The second masquerade carnival of the season will be held on the Thistle rink here on Wednesday evening next, the 25th instant. A programme of events consisting of one mile and obstacle races, and gentleman's fancy skating, has been prepared. Prizes are also offered for the prettiest and most attractive costume; best historical costume; best representation of any national costume; best fancy costume for girls; best representation of British army, and two prizes for the most comical costumes. The programme commences at 7:30. The band will be in attendance. The prizes are on view in J. T. Blowsy's window.

P. E. FERNES, proprietor of the Hotel Carlyle of Chicago, and representing a company of eight from that city who intend starting for the gold fields in the spring, arrived on last train. Mr. Fernes has been travelling on the coast for the purpose of deciding on the most feasible route over which to take his company. After investigating the coast routes he came north to Edmonton to study up the route. He advocates, and his decision is emphatically in favor of the all-Canadian route. Mr. Fernes has made arrangements with the Hudson's Bay Company to have constructed for him a) the Athabasca Landing three steamboats which will be from 36 to 32 feet long and lighted by incandescent light generated from a plant on board. There are a large number of intending gold seekers in Chicago with whom he is personally acquainted, who are merely waiting his report before deciding on the route they will take. Mr. Fernes is also correspondent for a number of papers throughout his state and is anxious to gather information concerning the Edmonton route to form material for communications to them.

Mr. Justice Scott and wife returned to Calgary on last train.
 N. K. LUXON, of the Calgary Herald, came in on Thursday's train.
 J. F. FORBES, late of Fort Saskatchewan, is opening a real estate and accountant office here.
 G. M. DYER, general agent for the New York Life Insurance Company, has opened an office in the Imperial bank block, in the rooms formerly occupied by Dr. Goodwin.
 A TRAVELLER from Chicago states that the papers of that city gave F. Meriweather a sad roast when telegraphic reports were received, showing up his fake starvation story in its true light. He has not been heard from since.
 The Electric Light Co., now expect to have the light on again before the end of this week, if possible by Wednesday night. An engineer and electrician named Hart, of Toronto, has been engaged by the company to run the plant here. He is expected in on to-morrow's train.
 H. P. HALL, press agent for the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste Marie railway, editor of the Soo Line Bulletin—a paper devoted to the interests of the above railway—and correspondent for several big American papers, arrived on Thursday's train for the purpose of writing up Edmonton and its route to the Yukon. Mr. Hall is gathering information for a special edition of the Soo Line Bulletin, setting forth the advantages of the Edmonton route and advocating Edmonton as an outfitting point. The edition will contain the advertisements of a number of outfitting houses here and will undoubtedly do good work in attracting the attention of travellers to the all-Canadian route. Mr. Hall is also preparing leading articles along the same line, if papers which the representatives. Advertising is a good thing and this is one of the instances where it is impossible to have too much of a good thing. The Edmonton route is at the front and it is undoubtedly going to stay there, notwithstanding dilatory governments, anti-ontic corporations and belligerent papers with iron of their own to burn.

ON THE MOVE
 Owing to the very rapid increase in our business, we have been obliged to get larger premises, so have decided to move
From the Bulletin Block
 Into the new brick store built on the next lot west. Our stock will be largely increased, when we will show the biggest range of Clothing, Furnishings, Boots & Shoes in the north.
 As we make a specialty of those lines, and buying direct from the manufacturers, we think we can do better than other houses who divide their energies on other goods. On and after February 1st we will be in a position to receive all who come

To the Humberstone Block
 Where you will find us ready and willing to show our goods and quote prices.

STOCK TAKING
 For the next 20 days we will clear out all odd lines, short ends, etc. at reduced prices in order to make room for our Large Stock of Spring Goods
 part of which are now already on the way.
 We intend putting in a much larger stock and hope by still selling the best goods at the lowest prices to receive a continuance of the liberal patronage we have received during the past year.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, JANUARY 24TH 1908

A COMPARISON, NOT INVIDIOUS.

"Ohio," said a traveller, who is registered at the Alberta and representing of a large manufacturing firm of that State, "is a State rich in natural resources. Our firm uses natural gas which is on their own land, to run their entire plant with, and also crude petroleum, which we use largely in the business, is brought there by pipes to the factory from beds among the hills a mile and a half away. Ohio has coal, coal oil, timber, natural gas and fairly good agricultural land, and, taking it all in all, I think I am safe in saying that for natural resources it is the richest State in the Union."

Comparisons, if not invidious, are not odious, and a comparison right here as to the relative natural richness of Ohio and Alberta would put the former, even though the richest State in the Union, decidedly in the shade. Alberta has all that Ohio has, and more. It has coal, coal oil, $25,000,000 worth of timber, and the town in unlimited and inexhaustible quantities. It has timber in vast quantities up the river and the river forms a natural highway for its transportation to the mills in town, by merely carrying it down the current. Alberta has coal oil wells which the government is now preparing to tap and develop, at Pelican rapids and Victoria, and it has agricultural lands second to none in the west, lands which last season raised 60 to 80 bushels of oats to the acre and wheat correspondingly good. A conservative estimate places the export of grain for Northern Alberta alone, for the season of '07, at one million bushels. In the way of natural gas, it has it in such quantities that oil boring operations were compelled to close until it had blown itself off, and the roar it makes when escaping from the pipes at the Pelican rapids oil well can be heard for two miles down the river. All these resources Alberta has, and it has others also. It does the largest trade in undressed furs of any town in North America. In July last, between the 5th and 15th, $34,028 00 worth of fur was brought in and sold here, and that was only a small portion of the season's sales. It has fishing industries which are only in the infancy of their development. Whitefish are the standard and staple diet of the Indians of the north, who cure them in lots of 10,000 for winter consumption. Besides these whitefish there are "Alberta salmon," huge salmon trout weighing over forty pounds, which are caught in large quantities in Cold lake, lying about 180 miles north-west of town. For two hundred miles along the Athabasca river, between the Landing and Lake Athabasca vast quantities of crude tar are found in the hollows among the rocks. This tar is turned to practical use by voyageurs along the river and prospectors Yukon bound, who use it for tarring the seams of their boats to make them more impenetrable to water. It is in the vicinity of these tar beds that the government is now boring for coal oil and the indications promise a highly satisfactory result. There is still another natural product of Alberta, almost unknown and altogether undeveloped—the great salt beds on Salt river, a tributary of the Slave, situated about ten miles below Fort Smith or 600 miles north of Edmonton. Here a natural outcrop of pure crystal salt exists. Traders and trappers, who form the largest portion of the population of the district, have only to take a shovel and bag and go to the outcroppings where they can get their salt supply for the taking. The salt is dried in the sun in the summer and then ground through a coffee mill at Fort Smith, when it comes out equally as good, it is claimed, by those who have used it, as the imported eastern article. Salt at Godrich, a great producing centre, costs retail 75c to 85c per barrel of 300 lbs. At Edmonton this same salt cost $4.00 per barrel. The difference is a large saving in cost of freight, so that once the north is tapped by railway connection the development of these great natural beds would offer a most favorable opening for the investment of capital.

RIGHT AND MIGHT.

A despatch to the Globe of the 18th, instant from the Globe of the corresponding day, says: "It is understood that the intention of the government to introduce legislation this session, defining the position of the unorganized territories in the Northwest, declaring them formally under the jurisdiction of the federal authorities. The executive of the Northwest Territories at Regina, seems to be laboring under the impression that they have some authority in the Yukon. Premier Haultain was credited a few weeks ago in the press with saying that the executive intended sending up a party of officials to the Yukon, their chief license inspector to be one of them. In the Northwest assembly four or five weeks ago a debate was brought up on a newspaper report, that the government at Ottawa intended imposing a tax of $2 a gallon on whiskey going into the Yukon, and Haultain made a speech in which he asserted a policy and took high ground about the jurisdiction of the territorial government in the Yukon. It was undignified to hold a debate on a newspaper paragraph without taking steps to ascertain the truth. Haultain should not be rash in asserting authority or attempting to exercise it unless he is perfectly sure of his ground."

From the present appearance of affairs Premier Haultain is perfectly sure of his ground, the Globe's correspondent to the contrary notwithstanding. It does not appear to be a question of law or interpretation of law, but merely a plain statement of existing facts, that if the Yukon is part of the Northwest Territories and the laws of the Territories apply to it, then those Territories are entitled to such portion of the revenue arising from the Yukon as they would be entitled to if the Yukon district was in any other part of the Territories. In other words, if the territorial government receives the revenue arising from liquor licenses in Alberta, why should it not receive the revenue from the same source in the Yukon? If the Yukon is subject to Territorial law, it is certainly entitled to that revenue, and if it is not subject to Territorial law why are officials who have been called to the bar under the law of the Territories, allowed to practice in the Yukon without passing further examination? A privilege which they cannot claim in any other province. Furthermore, if the executive of the Northwest Territories have no claim on the Yukon and no power over it, why does the Dominion government find it necessary to introduce legislation "declaring that district formally under the jurisdiction of the federal authorities," as the correspondent aforesaid has it. As to the undignified proceeding of holding a debate in a legislative body on the mere strength of a newspaper report, which the Globe's correspondent claims occurred during the last session at Regina, the correspondent is in error as to the facts as no debate was held. In reply to a question regarding the truth of the report that the federal government intended imposing a tax of $2.00 per gallon on liquor going into the Yukon, Mr. Haultain stated that he could not believe the report to be true, but the executive would take immediate steps to ascertain the facts.

It appears very much as though the Dominion government owned and controlled the Yukon when there is any revenue to be derived from that district, but when an expense is to be incurred in opening a road to it, they know it not. The executive of the Northwest Territories are entitled to the revenue they claim, on the ground—if for no other reason—of compensation for the money they have voted and expended to cut a road to the gold fields and throw them open to the world; and that revenue they will undoubtedly have, together with compensation from the federal authorities for the loss they will sustain when the right to collect such revenue is eventually legislated out of their control.

THE WEALTH OF KLONDIKE.

A Seattle despatch of the 18th says: The news brought by treasure laden miners, who arrived from the Klondike by the steamer Corcoran, is important, chiefly that it confirms the discovery of the great mother lode. Throughout the district, the discovery is accepted as an assurance of the permanency of the district as a rich gold mining field. As placer diggings, it will continue rich. Replying to the questions for an estimate of the winter's gold dust output of the camp, Joe Campbell, one of the returning miners, said: "We have done a great deal of figuring on that, and it now appears that the output, notwithstanding the scarcity of food and light, will be from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000."

LOCAL.

A. AND M. Monk, of Kingston, arrived on Thursday en route to the Yukon.

The Rev. Bishop of Calgary will hold confirmation service at Christ church, Poplar lake on Sunday, February 13th at two o'clock.

SISTER LITELLIER, of the hospital here, has been appointed Mother Superior of the vicarage newly formed in this district, which includes a large part of the northern regions.

The Molson's bank, which was to have opened an office here, in the Heilmann block, have made other arrangements and will not now establish a branch here as intended. Wm. Short, who was to have been solicitor for the Molson's bank, has been appointed solicitor for the Merchant's bank.

A LETTER has been received by the BULLETIN from Hon. Wm. Pugsley, in which he says, in speaking of the projected railroad: "You will be pleased to know that I have got a very strong English syndicate interested. There is practically no limit to the capital which they can put into the enterprise."

An amendment has been made in the law regarding registration of land notes. The fee for registering the note has been increased to 25c instead of 10c as formerly charged and the ordinance now requires also that the note if not paid be renewed every two years, the same as in the case of chattel mortgages.

The gold medal elocutionary contest, under the auspices of the I. O. O. F., takes place in Robertson Hall to-morrow evening. Only the six holders of silver medals are eligible for the contest. An extensive programme of twenty-one numbers has been prepared. A number of musicians of South Edmonton will assist.

J. COSGROVE, manager of the Cosgrove Concert Co., arrived on Thursday's train and made arrangements for the re-appearance of his company here on the night of the 25th, 26th and 28th of February. Mr. Cosgrove states that the company will reappear with a new 1898 programme, consisting of new scenes, descriptive singing and comic songs. They also have the new 1898 kinetoscope.

This concert and dramatic entertainment given by the mounted police of G division at Fort Saskatchewan on Wednesday night last was an unequalled success. All who attended from Edmonton report having had a very enjoyable time. As the entertainment was such a success at the Fort the police are making arrangements to repeat it at an early date in Robertson Hall here.

HOSPITAL AID SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of the hospital aid society was held on Tuesday, the 18th inst., in the council chamber, when the following officers were elected for this year: President, Mrs. Braithwaite; vice-president, Mrs. Lauder; treasurer, Mrs. Larue; secretary, Mrs. Beck. The following five ladies with the officers, constitute the board of management: Mrs. H. C. Taylor, Mrs. Stennett, Mrs. Graydon, Mrs. G. G. Gough and Mrs. McCormack. A vote of thanks was tendered to the retiring president, Mrs. Wilson, and the other officers of last year. The retiring board of management of the society presented their annual report, which showed that the income of the society for the year just ended was $614.30. This amount was made up as follows:

Membership fees,	$ 33.75
First ball,	96.75
Concert,	22.15
Second ball,	461.65
Total,	$614.30

This sum was disposed of as follows:

Expenses of balls, etc.,	$ 86.77
Paid over to Sister Superior,	500.00
Balance on hand in bank,	27.53
Total,	$614.30

There were 474 patients admitted to the general hospital from January 1898 to January 1898. Of these 206 were Protestants; 268 Catholics. They were also classified as follows: Pauper patients, 260; half pay patients, 135; paying patients, 79. Half pay patients are those who were unable to pay the usual charges, but contributed something towards their expenses. It may be seen from the above figures that the number of paying patients is very small and that of the pauper correspondingly large; the ladies of the hospital aid therefore hope to see their membership largely increased this year, that they may be better able to provide funds towards the support of so many poor people, certainly a deserving object of charity.

ST. ALBERT

Is a good business town nine miles north-west of Edmonton, directly on the road to the Great Gold Fields of the Peace, Liard and Pelly rivers and beyond.

There are several large establishments here, including Stores, Butchers, Hotels, Blacksmiths and Freighters.

Intending Gold-seekers are advised to come here, for living is cheap, reliable information from the natives of the country may be had for nothing, and this is the last outfitting point for the Klondyke.

Packhorses to any number can be bought here cheap, and encampments with abundance of wood and water are to be found everywhere.
